ALL SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA IS HELPING TO BUILD TORRANCE

The Bank of America with its affiliated banks is a great clearing house for prosperity in the entire Southwest.

Surplus funds in one community are deposited and used to aid other communities in need of more working capital. Thus every one is benefited.

In addition to bringing much needed funds to Torrance, the Bank of America staff in the Torrance office all live in this city and spend their money here.

Famous Dog at the Torrance Theatre, Sunday and Monday

A new star has risen in the cinema sky. He's a dog star, and his name is Peter the Great. His latest appearance is in a thrilling and intensely gripping story of the Northland, "Wild Justice," a Chester F. Franklin production being released by United Artists Corporation. Movie fans will recall that Mr. Franklin has made more dog screen stars than almost any other man. Peter the Great is said to be a marvel of intelligence, especially trained for motion picture work, and to have been selected for this purpose because of an almost uncanny ability to register elemental emotions—or whatever it is a dog registers to show his loves and his hatreds; his vengeance or his loyalty. Peter is a great grandson of the famous Alex von Westfahlenheim, Germany's greatest police dog, the blood of which is found in champions of all police dog classes.

'Ten Commandments' at Lomita

The very bad young man (Rod La Rocque) broke all the commandments and stole the girl (Leatrice Joy) from his brother (Richard Dix) in "The Ten Commandments" Cecil B. DeMille's greatest Paramount Picture

For three days only, at the Lomita Theatre—Thursday, Friday and Saturday—Cecil B. DeMille's masterpiece, "The Ten Commandments" will be shown. This picture needs no introduction nor specifications on its cast. It's a picture you can't afford to miss. For two days, Sunday and Monday, "Rugged Water," with Lois Wilson, Wallace Beery, Warner Baxter, and Phyllis Haver, will be featured. Monday promises a better and bigger Country Store, with lots of surprises, groceries, and gifts. Tuesday and Wednesday Peter the Great, that "human dog," will be shown in a picture acclaimed as wonderful, "Wild Justice."

TOWNE ALKE

"Just for Fun"
By RAS BERRY

The Bat is a persistent bozo and keeps sending me things to prove he stays at the Biltmore. This time it's the information folder telling all the shops that is in the Biltmore, and a postal card with a picture of the hotel on one side. I guess he don't work in the laundry. But he has still gotta prove that he ain't a printer.

Dick Flaherty he comes back from Flint, Mich., and he says he don't think much of my old home town because he was only there one night and was kept awake all night by a big thunder storm. If he thinks that's bad he should ought to be there in February when a blizzard what is off the mt. lakes. He wouldn't even stay one night.

Con Cave goes swimmin over to Laguna Beach and a big breaker hits him a lick and cracks one of his ribs and tears away a flock of his mounts. It musta been some wave.

Hurum Reeve says etiquette is when you say no thank you when what you really mean is gimme.

Motorcycle Cop Stanley he says he thinks the best place for road hogs is in the pen.

The funny part about this here Legion play that comes off next wk. is that in the show why Sam Levy has got a part that all the time he is playing in it he is trying to convince me of the value of advertising and that's what I've been trying to educate him up to in a big way ever since I come to Torrance and I hope he learns his part so well that he'll believe it himself.

Charlie Vonderahe comes in and he says what do you mean writing editorials that say the business of education in the future is to educate folks for leisure and I says well I mean just what I said and he says well it ain't necessary to be educated for leisure because if anybody don't know what leisure is why all he has to do is move to a town after a oil boom has let down and go into the real estate business.

Charlie Inman goes down to the Torrance theatre and sees the Lost World and after he takes a slant at them big animals that use to do their stuff why he says if that's the kind of a world it was I'm glad they lost it.

Busy men now wear the strap watch

When your hours are crowded with activity, it's especially important to keep track of passing time. That's why so many busy men wear the strap watch.

Just a turn of the wrist, and the dial of your strap watch gives you the time—instantly.

For sports, of course, the strap watch is practically a necessity. But men are finding it equally convenient for general wear without a vest.

If you do not enjoy the strap watch habit just drop in and examine our latest models from well-known manufacturers, dressed in sturdy Wadsworth Cases.
